Announcing the 30th Annual Women and Spirituality Conference:

Creating a Multi-Cultural Democracy: Religion, Culture and Identity in America

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Winona LaDuke

Saturday and Sunday, October 22 & 23, 2011
Minnesota State University, Mankato

Dr. Winona LaDuke

Greetings from the 2011 Women and Spirituality Conference! The purpose of this conference is to bring together people of diverse spiritual traditions and to create an atmosphere where ideas about traditions and spiritual growth can be shared. Participation of all people from diverse cultural, spiritual, racial, and ethnic backgrounds is encouraged. We do not advocate or exclude any view, nor do we permit proselytizing. Respect for each other's views is essential for the success of the conference.

Attached are the Call for Workshop Proposals, Invitation to Exhibit and Opening/Closing application forms. Postmark deadline for workshop proposals and exhibitor applications is April 25, 2011. PLEASE NOTE: IF YOU WISH TO SELL ANY ITEM PERTAINING TO YOUR WORKSHOP, YOU MUST APPLY FOR AN EXHIBITOR TABLE IN ADDITION TO THE WORKSHOP PROPOSAL! You may not sell items as a part of Conference workshops. No late proposals or exhibitor forms will be accepted!

Please feel free to make copies of this information to share with friends, publish in newsletters, or post at bookstores, churches, women's centers, and co-ops. If you know an individual, organization, or publication that would like to be on our mailing list, please give out our mailing address and phone number. See you in October!

Call For Workshop Proposals

The keynote speaker this year is Winona LaDuke (Anishinaabe). She is an internationally renowned activist working on issues of sustainable development, renewable energy and food systems. She lives and works on the White Earth reservation in northern Minnesota, and is a two time vice presidential candidate with Ralph Nader for the Green Party.

Dr. Winona LaDuke

As Program Director of the Honor the Earth, she works nationally and internationally on the issues of climate change, renewable energy, and environmental justice with Indigenous communities.

In her own community, she is the founder of the White Earth Land Recovery Project, one of the largest reservation based non-profit organizations in the country, and a leader in the issues of culturally based sustainable development strategies, renewable energy and food systems. In this work, she also continues national and international work to protect Indigenous plants and heritage foods from patenting and genetic engineering.

In 2007, LaDuke was inducted into the National Women's Hall of Fame, recognizing her leadership and community commitment. In 1994, LaDuke was nominated by Time magazine as one of America's fifty most promising leaders under forty years of age. She has been awarded the Thomas Merton Award in 1996, Ms. Woman of the Year (with the Indigo Girls in 1997), and the Reebok Human Rights Award, with which in part she began the White Earth Land Recovery Project. The White Earth Land Recovery Project has won many award including the prestigious 2003 International Slow Food Award for Biodiversity, recognizing the organization's work to protect wild rice from patenting and genetic engineering.

A graduate of Harvard and Antioch Universities, LaDuke has written extensively on Native American and environmental issues. She is the author of five books, including Recovering the Sacred, All our Relations and a novel, Last Standing Woman.

She is a former board member of Greenpeace USA and is presently an advisory board member for the Trust for Public Lands Native Lands Program as well as a board member of the Christensen Fund. She is widely recognized for her work on environmental and human rights issues.

We invite you to send a proposal for a workshop on any aspect of spirituality. We are particularly seeking workshops that focus on ways in which women of diverse spiritual traditions work together, understanding and respecting the similarities and diversities of their own and others' lives and traditions. We encourage participants and presenters from varying ethnic, racial, age, ability, and class backgrounds. We emphasize no one spirituality or religion – all approaches are invited.

There will be four workshop periods which will be 90 minutes in length. We welcome a variety of formats: formal paper presentation, round table, activity, ritual, experiential, demonstration, discussion, and child-friendly. Child-friendly sessions can either be geared toward children or children and adults. Although children are welcome at these workshops, we expect all other workshops to be adults only and will make a note of that in the conference program. Activities related to celebration of spirituality are encouraged, including worship services and rituals. In an effort to provide maximum accessibility of workshops to participants, repeat workshops are sought. Your willingness to offer multiple sessions is appreciated. We will attempt to honor all requests made by presenters, but at times, decisions may have to be made by the conference planners regarding rooms, session assigned, etc. We appreciate your flexibility in this matter.

To submit a workshop proposal, please complete and return the enclosed form postmarked no later than April 25, 2011. All who send in proposals will receive notice of acceptance/non-acceptance by the end of June. Presenters and co-presenters will be provided complimentary conference registration only. Information regarding a co-presenter must be completed on this form for the co-presenter to receive complimentary registration.

The following information you provide will be used for the conference program as well as for our planning and organizing. Your workshop descriptions may be edited for the program for the sake of conciseness. The following requested information should be filled out and turned in on the form as it appears below; type "overflow" information on additional sheets as needed. The information requested here is not a substitute for the workshop description (see criterion #6 below); please prepare a separate proposal form for each workshop. Hand-written proposals will not be accepted. Please do not send additional information that has not been requested. You may e-mail your information to: veldhc@mnsu.edu If you have presented a workshop in the past, you MUST still complete this form in full; incomplete forms may not give us enough information to accept your workshop or offer you the accommodations you're expecting.

10. AV/Multimedia Needs:

Laptops, CD/tape players, and traditional slide projectors will need to be provided by the presenter. In University rooms that we will be providing for the Conference, the following multimedia is available: DVD players, VCR, LCD projector and screen, wireless internet, laptop hookups for PCs, and document cameras (a.k.a. document reader or ELMO). Supplies provided by the Conference are limited to non-disposable items. Any handouts, bibliographies, flip charts, easels, artwork supplies such as dry erase markers, pens, pencils, markers, paper, etc., are the responsibility of the presenter. Please do not ask participants to help with supply expenses!

Please check all that you will need:

- TV (we will have a projector screen)
- Overhead Projector-the old fashioned kind; we have document readers in all of our Conference Rooms
(you must supply your own cable for hook up to projector)
- Podium
- Microphone (specify type and quantity)
- Carpet
- Table(s)
- Whiteboard/Blackboard
- Other (Please explain): _____

No Use of Scents: Because of restrictions and codes enforced by the University, we cannot allow lighting of candles or sage or use of incense on University grounds. We try to make the conference accessible to all who wish to participate; therefore, we ask that you refrain from the use of perfumes, colognes and other scents at the conference.

If you have an interest in performing/facilitating the opening and closing ritual, please review the following:

Invitation to Exhibit

We are seeking exhibitors of arts and crafts. Up to 85 spaces will be available in the Shellberg Gym (in order to ensure the security of your items), and acceptance will be determined by the tradition of the conference and a need to maintain varied exhibitions, but remember APPLICATIONS WILL BE REVIEWED & ACCEPTED by decision of our organizing committee. The application must be postmarked no later than April 25, 2011, but applications are accepted on a first come-first served basis. All who submit applications by the deadline will receive notice of acceptance/non-acceptance in June/July.

It is not necessary to complete the exhibitor application form for the "Information Only" table. If you would like to place your materials on the general information table, send them along with a note specifying this. However, due to limited space, there is a maximum of 50 pieces per organization.

For those who would like to reserve a table, please note the following guidelines:

- All exhibitors must return an Exhibitor Application Form along with payment.
- A non-refundable exhibitor fee (if you cancel, this will NOT be returned) must accompany the application. The fee for vendors is $100.00 for one space or $175.00 for two spaces. If you are not accepted, your check will be returned.
- Total space available for one table rental is approximately 6 feet x 6 feet. This will be strictly adhered to because of limited space. Spaces will be in the Shellberg Gym if it is available.
- Items will be secure when the gym is locked for the evening.
- If you are also presenting at the conference, please arrange coverage of your booth during your workshop.
- Exhibitors who wish to attend the Keynote Address and/or the conference must register and pay the required fee. Please send the completed registration form with your payment after conference registration opens.
- Due to regulations and University policies, exhibitors are not allowed to sell food of any kind at the conference.
- Please make child care arrangements for any child under ten.
