The ARC Mission Statement

What is the Anti-Racism Committee?

The Anti-Racism Committee of the school psychology doctoral program at Minnesota State University, Mankato was convened to coordinate action related to the program's official endorsement of the School Psychology Unified Anti-Racism Statement and Call to Action.

The Anti-Racism Committee is committed to the following tenets: accountability, advocacy, cultural competency, inclusion, proactive diversification, and continuous improvement.

What is The ARC Newsletter?

The ARC Newsletter will be a newsletter sent out monthly featuring selected resources with the intent that they will help to educate and inform the anti-racism effort. This might look like journal articles, book or chapter recommendations, videos, and more. We hope that this will be a helpful way of sharing information and further educating us all in how to acknowledge and understand institutional barriers and help us work to overcome them.

"Psychologists aspire to recognize and understand historical and contemporary experiences with power, privilege, and oppression. As such, they seek to address institutional barriers and related inequities, disproportionalities, and disparities of law enforcement, administration of criminal justice, educational, mental health, and other systems as they seek to promote justice, human rights, and access to quality and equitable mental and behavioral health services."

- American Psychological Association

The Anti-Racism Committee Mission Statement

The Mission of the Anti-Racism Committee is to plan, coordinate, and implement action to advance research, practice, policy, and education that will reduce racism. We focus on collaborating, teaching, and participating in service and scholarship that will engage in social justice and anti-racist action. We are committed to actively dismantling systems of oppression and supporting students and faculty from diverse backgrounds. We strive to reduce racial injustices within not only our program, but also the university and broader community.
