

AIS 330: Indigenous Education

SUMMER 2021 ONLINE

MINNESOTA STATE UNIVERSITY, MANKATO

This course is designed for all undergraduate students. Everyone is welcome.

There are no pre-requisites to take this class. Anyone pursuing careers in education, community engagement, NPL, RPLS, counseling, and student support services will find it particularly valuable.

Summer Session I (5 weeks) May 17th–June 18th

Mix of Online Content + Weekly Zoom Meeting on Wednesday nights

GENERAL ED: Areas 5 & 9 and Diverse Cultures Course

This class introduces students to Indigenous perspectives of education, knowledge, and learning. Students will explore the historical relationships between educational institutions, policies, practices, and Indigenous communities. By learning how present day educators, programs, and institutions are successfully incorporating and engaging traditional knowledges, students will develop a deeper understanding of Indigenous education and ways to promote teaching practices and pedagogies that value and support a diverse educational community.
